mination, perhaps more, than anyone who ever came. This man was Thomas Todd. He says, "I was a great Bible reader and I became dissatisfied with my religious beliefs and my father's." Into Wasatch County came one man who had as much deter he joined the Church and began to want to join the body of the Church. No amount of pleading or intreaty—no form of bribery could induce him to stay in Scotland. Shortly before they were could not accept. Thomas' brother, Alexander, came as far as New York with them. Alexander even offered Thomas one-half church and Wasatch County and never lost one second in regrets. of all his earthy possessions if he would return. Thomas chose his to leave, his oldest son died. that little grave alone for the sake of a strange religion which they Thomas married in January, 1850, and on September 15, 1850 His people felt he would not leave
